7

The holiday exhibition at the Wunderlich Gallery is devoted to old English prints in colors. Together with these quaint and beautiful portraits and miscellaneous compositions, there are shown some recent works by Mr. S. Arlent Edwards, also printed in colors. This American engraver has labored with taste and skill over his difficult problem. He would probably be the first to admit that he cannot rival the English engravers of the last century in freshness, brillancy and purity of color, or in felicity of style; but he has, nevertheless, gone far toward recapturing something of their charm. In time he will doubtless overcome his obstacles and securat once greater precision and spontanelty in the engraving, with richer effects in the print-

Mr. A. A. Anderson announces an exhibition of his portraits, to be opened at the Avery Galteries next Monday Mr. Theodor Wiist shows some miniature portraits at the galleries of Julius Ochme The American Society of Miniature Painters, organized last March, will open its first annual exhibition at the Knoedler Galleries on Tuesday, January 9 The seventy-fifth annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design will be opened at the Fine Arts Building on Monday, January 1, and will closed Saturday, January 27. Exhibits will be received only on December 15 and 16. The American Water Color Society will hold its thirty-third annual exhibition in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, opening on February 5 and closing on the 17th of the same month. Exhibits will be received only on January 12 and 13, and not at the hotel, but at Budworth's, No. 424 West Fifty-second-st..... The circular of the sixty-ninth annual exhibition of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Pine Arts, just received, states that the exhibition will be opened en Menday, January 15, and will close on

A graceful tribute was paid to Mr. Worthington Whittredge recently at Summit, N. J., where he has lived and worked for the last twenty years. At a dinner held in his honor his fellow townsmen presented to the distinguished artist beloved neighbor and friend," a testimony of their love for his character and appreciation of his art in the shape of a silver loving Mr. Whittredge has received many honors his long and fruitful life. Each one that is added to the list gives pleasure to those who know the service he has rendered to American art. A veteran of the school which was fostered on the precepts of Dusseldorf, Mr. Whittredge was always a painter of catholic tastes and He studied not only in Dusseldorf, but in Paris, Belgium, Holland and Rome. methods of the fifties were his methods, t he never crystallized in them; his art constantly grew in breadth and in spiritual quality. No one has surpassed him in rendering the intimate beauty of the American woodlands. The dinner and presentation at Summit expressed a recognition of his worth, which must everywhere receive the most sympathetic ratification. We quote his speech of acceptance and thanks:

I feel very much like a wild animal caught in

I feel very much like a wild animal caught in the woods and brought into town for show, and I don't know but I would be glad to exchange places with the lion. He sleeps and has a clear conscience; knows no English and is never acked for a speech. For the cup I haven't much to say. It was totally unexpected, and I think one of the prettiest I have ever seen.

There is an old saying that some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. To be born great one must be the son of a President or other high official; to achieve greatness it is necessary to go to New-York and elbow your way to the front in the throngs of that city, but to have greatness thrust upon him a man must only marry and settle in some small town in New-Jersey. I was told when I came here that I was in the hands of a very arbitrary commit-tee, and if I heard anything derogatory to my tee, and if I heard anything derogatory to my character I must not argue. Well, the commit-tee have been exceedingly fair, even though they have been exceedingly fair, even though they have been hard on me.

I see here a great many residents who remember when I came here twenty years ago and bought land that nobody else would have. It was situated in a wilderness and was not a nice place to live, but was pleasant after all.

Part of my land was water. It was a great place for birds and we could hear the white. nice place to live, but was pleasant after all. Part of my land was water. It was a great place for birds, and we could hear the whipporwill, whose cry I interpreted to mean that we should not remove the trees to make place for telegraph poles. Often when restless at night I have been visited by a huge owi, that perched on a tree just outside my window and selemnly inquired, "Who's who?" It is untrue that I killed the owl or sent him to wake my neighbors; it is untrue that I allowed children to fall into my pond, and then after rescuing them sent them home without a scolding. I never kept dogs to bark at my neighbors' borses.

borses.

But the years are rolling on and we grow old

But the years are rolling on and we grow old But the years are rolling on and we grow old without noticing it. We are children finally. Forgetfulness comes with age. Every sun that rises and sets rises again on another day of enjoyment in this beautiful world. It is good as we grow old to remember the pleasant things of life, and one of the pleasantest ones will always be the memory of this night; not because of any honor you pay me as an artist, but because of your presence to give cordial greeting and show neighborly regard for me.

ROSEMARY HALL TO MOVE.

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 8 (Special),-Rosemary Hall, a young women's school situated at Wallingford, is to remove to Greenwich as soon as build-ings can be erected for it. It is conducted by a corporation, of which Miss R. Resse is principal. Six acres of land have been secured of Nathaniel Witherell at Rock Ridge, a newly developed park near Belle Haven, and ground will be broken next Week for a school building and a gymnasium. All will be completed by next fall, so that the institution will remove here then. Rosemary Hall has been located in Wallingford for ten years.

ACCIDENT TO THE IRISH MAIL.

ONE PERSON KILLED AND THREE INJURED IN A

WRECK AT CREWE. London, Dec. 8.-The railroad train wreck at Creme was not serious. Only one person was killed and three were injured.

It was announced in an earlier dispatch from London that a terrible disaster had happened to the Irish mall train at Crewe, the important railroad centre thirty-four miles southeast of Liverpool. It was added that many persons had been killed or injured.

THE POPE CELEBRATES MASS.

Rome, Dec. 8.-in spite of rainy weather and the edvice of his physicians, the Pope celebrated mass in his private chapel to-day.

CONTINUOUS STORMS SWEEP JAMAICA. Kingston, Jamaica, Dec. &-The continuous floods culminating in a severe norther from Monday to yesterday, have augmented the destruction of the crops, have impeded the railroad, highway and tele graph repairs, and have further damaged them. Consequently, the outlook for fruit exports is be-coming grave. Even with rowing, it is difficult to obtain access to what has escaped the hurricane.

COLONIAL SECRETARY FOR JAMAICA. London, Dec. 8.—Sydney Olivier, of the Colonial Office, has been appointed Colonial Secretary for Jamaica.

Sydney Ohvier, an Oxford graduate, entered the Colonial Office in 1882. From 1890 to 1891 he was Act-ing Colonial Secretary for British Honduras, and in he was Auditor General of the Leeward Islands. He was private secretary to the Earl of Schorne 1886-97; was secretary to the West India Royal Commission, 1897-98, and was sent to Washington in 1886 to assist in the reciprocity negotiations in behalf of the West Indian colonies. He has written a number of magazine articles on socialism and economics and other matters.

THE PASSING THRONG.

H. R. Graham, of London, England, who is in this city on his way to Canada, when seen at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday, said: CHARACTER-"The feeling in London is one of ISTICS OF gloom at present and also of ap-JOUBERT. prehension, for, no matter what may be the rank in life, there is scarcely a family in the United Kingdom that in some way or another is not represented in South In consequence, this war has, outside of Africa. In consequence, this war has, outside of the naturally patriotic feeling of the people at large, given rise to an intense personal interest for all classes, and you can readily imagine the great anxiety with which the returns of casualities from such a fight as the one at Modder Bridge under General Lord Methon, with the accent on the last syllable) are awaited. The daily scenes enacted before the War Office at present are really harrowing.

"General Joubert I met in London in 1890 or 1891, think it was, at the Army and Navy Club. I am under the impression that he had just returned from a visit to relatives in this country. There was a great deal of popular interest taken in him in London at that time, on account of his victories over the English troops at Majuba Hill and Laing's Nek, and, like other Englishmen, I was curious to ascertain the manner of man who had been able to administer such a setback to our soldlers. I must say I was much impressed with his personality, and while I do not remember what we talked about, I know he gave me the idea of a strong man physically and mentally. His face showed much determination, not to say obstinacy of character, so much, in fact, that I was not to the last in favor of hanging the Outlander Reform Committee character, so much, in fact, that I was not greatly surprised when he later hung out to the last in favor of hanging the Outlander Reform Committee after the Jameson Rald fasco. An American engineer, John Hays Hammond, was a member of that committee, you know, and after the death sentence had been passed, a chap told me that the Boers put up the scaffold directly in front of his window, so that his only view had for its foreground the grim machine by which he at that time thought he would soon make his exit from this world."

"General Patrick A. Collins," said N. R. Alwyn, of Atlanta, Ga., at the Gilsey House yesterday, "was a great friend of the late GRADY'S Henry W. Grady, of Atlanta. NAME WAS Grady, who was Editor of 'The count of his wonderful natural gifts as an orator and also because of his being such a thorough all around good fellow, was one of the most widely known of Southern men. He was forever singing the praises of Atlanta, which he firmly believed to be the coming great city of the South, and I am not at all sure that he didn't believe of the world as well. One day at a dinner at white General Collins was present Grady got on this favorite hobby of his, and to illustrate how widely known Atlanta had become pulled out two envelopes which had contained letters sent to Atlanta from England. One was addressed to a friend of Grady at such and such a street, Atlanta, Ga., U. S. A., while the other was addressed simply to Henry W. Grady, Atlanta, State and country being omitted. 'And, would you believe it,' commented Mr. Grady,' ao widely known has Atlanta become that these two letters, mailed in London at the same time, were delivered in Atlanta in the same mail? There was a pause, and then General Collins drawled out from the other end of the table: 'They might have left that "Atlanta" off your letter, Grady. It wouldn't have delayed the delivery.'

on in this city," said N. R. Blanchard, of Cleveland, Ohio, at the Hotel Manhattan "reminds me of a similar one held many years ago in my old MURDER home in Maine. This was the case of a man who had tired of his wife. and most expeditious manner possible he deterand most expeditious manner possible he deter-mined upon her death. Divorce, while a feasible method, appealed not to his frugal mind, since it involved a large initiatory expense from counsel fees and a continuous one from allmony. So on murder he resolved, arsenic as the agent to effect it, and the method through which to introduce the poison into the stomach of his victim, without arousing her suspicions, the usually innocuous and popular lemonade. At the trial it was proved that he carried through his plans with skill and finesse, but after the deadly lemonade had been drunk by his too trusting spouse, noticing that some of the but after the deadily lemonate had been accounted his too trusting spouse, noticing that some of precipitate remained in the bottom of the glass, stirred it well up and again handed it to his viewith a loving smile, at the same time remarki 'But the best's at the bottom, my dear.'

MRS. LEDYARD'S WILL PROBATED.

LETTERS TESTAMENTARY ISSUED TO THE EXECU

Surrogate Fitzgerald yesterday admitted the of Mrs. Matlida Cass Ledyard to probate on the testimony taken last summer in London, England. The answer put in by the contestants was with-drawn, and letters testamentary were issued to Maud Spencer Ledyard and Charles E. Hughes, the executors named by the testatrix in the will.

By the will, after payment of sundry legacies amounting to about $7,400, the entire estate is divided equally between Elizabeth Cass Goddard and Maud Spencer Ledyard, the two daughters of the testatrix. A codicil probated with the will relates inds at East Grimstead, England, leased by Mrs. Ledyard, with an option to purchase, and provides for the payment out of the state of the purchase price, amounting to $28,350, and expenses in connection with rebuilding.

It has been reported that Mrs. Spencer Ledyard relinquishes her rights under this codicil, and therefore, in effect, gives up one-half of the amount therein mentioned, dividing the estate equally with her sister.

WILL CERTAIN MASSES BE CONDEMNED?

ARCHBISHOP ELDER'S PROPOSED ACTION NOT APPROVED IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Dec. 8.-A statement was published few days ago to the effect that the Roman Catholic Church authorities had ordered a reformation of church music in this country, and that a commission appointed for the purpose had examined and condemned a number of musical masses by Haydn, Mozart and others. It was said that Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, was about to promulgate an official condemnation of these masses in his archdio cese. Professor Frank Hale, of the Cathedral Choir, speaking of the matter, said: This is an old story that has been on its travels for a long time. It is absurd. The masses spoken of as having been condemned are among the most beautiful used in the church, and will certainly not be interfered with hereabouts. Archbishop Elder may object to them as unbecoming, but 1 do not believe that the majority of persons who like and understand music will share his opinion.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

YESTERDAY'S RECORD AND TO-DAY'S FORECAST. Washington, Dec. 8.—The pressure is generally high, except from Texas northward to the British possessions, which area is covered by a trough of low pressure, with distinct centres at its extremes and also in Western Kansas. Rains have been general over the lower half of this depression, extending into the Lower Missouri Valley and the West Gulf States. Heavy rain has fallen Valley and the West Gulf States. Heavy rain has raien in Eastern Texas and as a result the rivers in that section, which are still quite high, will probably reach flood stages Saturday and Sunday. Warnings to this effect were issued Friday morning. During Thursday night there were light snows and rains from the lower lake region eastward, followed by clearing weather. Temperature here greaterly right and of the Booky Mounperatures have generally risen east of the Hocky Moun-tains, except in the Ohio Valley, and are from 2 to 16 degrees above the seasonal average. In the Pacific Coast and plateau regions the pressure is high, except in the southern portions, and rains were quite general, changing to snow in the higher portions of the plateau region. The trough of low pressure before mentioned will move slowly eastward, causing showers Saturday in the entire slowly eastward, causing showers Saturday in the entire Mississippi Valley, the eastern portion of the slope region, and the Gulf States. This rain will reach the Atlantic Coast generally by Sunday, while clearing conditions will prevail throughout the Mississippi Valley by that time. In the extreme West fair weather will prevail Saturday and Sunday, preceded by snow Saturday in Saturday and Sunday, preceded by snow Saturday in Western Colorado and Western Wyoning. It will be Western Colorado and Western Wyoning. It will be Color Sunday in the Mississippi Valley, West Gulf States and the slope region. On the New-England and Middle Atlantic coasts freely westerly winds will become easterly Sunday, while on the South Atlantic Coast they will remain fresh from north to east.

PORECAST FOR TO DAY AND SUNDAY.

For New-England, fair to-day; fair Sunday in eastfresh westerly winds, becoming easterly Sinday,
For the District of Columbia, Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, ern Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, fair to-day; cloudy, probably showers Sunday, variable winds, becoming fresh easterly.

For West Virginia, Western New-York and Western Pennsylvania, fair to-day; Sunday, probably rain; variable winds, becoming fresh casterly.

Tribune Office, Dec. 9, 1 a. m.-The weather year was fair and mild. The temperature ranged between 34 and 45 degrees, the average (30% degrees) being 7% degrees higher than that of Thursday and 7 degrees higher than that of Thursday and 7 degrees higher than that of the corresponding date of last year.

The weather to-day will be fair. OBITUARY.

MRS. MAUD LOCKWOOD AIKEN. Mrs. Maud Lockwood Aiken, wife of the Rev. Edwin Edgerton Alken, died from scaret fever on October 28 at Tien-Tsin, China, at the age of twentyeight. She was the daughter of George and Sarah R. Lockwood, of No. 228 West Fifty-seventh-st., and was married to the Rev. Mr. Aiken seven years ago. Mr. Alken went to China in 1884 and became engaged in missionary work there for eight years, in association with the Rev. Dr. Blodgett, prominently identified with the missions in North China. Returning to America in 1892, he married Miss Lockwood and took his bride back with him to the miswood and took his bride back with him to the missionary field. She quickly acquired the language and for a time was active in missionary work among the Chinese children. She leaves three young children, two boys, six and four years old, and a baby girl of nineteen months. With her husband she was contemplating a visit home when she was stricken with disease. She died eieven days atterward. Her husband represents in China the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in the Congregational Church, and is a graduate of Yale, class of '81, and a member of the Skull and Bones Society. Memorial services will be held to-morrow afternoon at the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, in West Fifty-seventh-st.

JOSEPH C. HOAGLAND.

Joseph C. Hoagland, founder of the Royal Baking at his home, No. 27 West Fifty-first-st., at the age of fifty-eight years and five months. The cause death was principally a kidney complaint. Last October Mr. Hoagland was stricken with paralysis at his country home, on the Shrewsbury River, N. J. He was brought to his home in Manhattan and the best medical skill obtainable was secured. The debilitation following the paralytic shock, to Ohio, and attended the village schools there. His ancestors were Dutch, who early settled in New-

Amsterdam. He was preparing to engage in mercantile pursuits when the war broke out, and he the quartermaster's and subsistence departments having been detailed by Governor Tod of Ohio to service at Camp Chase, Columbus. After the war of compounding a baking powder that would make housewives happy by producing certain results. He experimented till he got a powder that seemed to meet the necessary requirements, and then he began to sell it over the counter to local customers. That was the beginning of the royal baking powder, and the young druggist, with his brother Dr. Cornelius N. Hoagland, soon extended the business. The brothers finally moved to this city, and with William Ziegler successfully conducted A dispute about business policy separated the brothers a few years ago, and Dr. Cornellus N. Hosgiand purchased the Cleveland Baking Powder ompany. After the death of Dr. Hoagland in Brooklyn about two years ago Joseph C. Hongland brought about a combination of the companies and retired from active business pursuits last spring.

Mr. Hoagland served as a Republican Presidential elector in 1880. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Holland Sodety and the Down Town, Lawyers and Union League clubs of Manhattan. At one time he was commodore of the American Yacht Club, and owned the steam yacht Stranger. Until about three years ago Mr. Hoagland lived in Clinton-ave, Brooklyn, his house thore being opposite Dr. Talmage's tabernacle when it was burned in the summer of 1894. His country home on the Shrewsbury River was one of the handsomest places in New-Jersey, the grounds having been laid out by Frederick Law Olmsted. His collection of paintings was one of the most noteworthy in the city.

In 1896 he married Miss Caroline C. Matiack, of Dayton, Ohio, and they have had three children, brought about a combination of the companies and

In 1865 he married Miss Caroline C. Matiack, of Dayton, Ohio, and they have had three children, Raymond, John A. and Frances M. Hoagland. His widow and these children survive him, together with a brother, I. N. Hoagland, Mr. Hoagland attended St. Bartholomew's Church, and the funeral will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Greer at the house on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

MRS. HAMILTON WALLIS.

Orange, N. J., Dec. 8 (Special).-Mrs. Alice Waldron Wallis, wife of Hamilton Wallis and who was well known in the Oranges, died last night at her home, No. 90 Prospect-st., East Orange, from heart trouble after an illness of about three weeks. She was born in Philadelphia and was married to Mr. was born in Philadelphia and was married to Mr. Wallis in 1808. She was a member of the Brick Presbyterian Church, of East Orange, and took an active part in its benevolent work and in the charities of the Oranges. She leaves three sons and one daughter. The funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. James F. Riggs. The burlal will be in Rosedale Cemetery.

CAPTAIN BENJAMIN DOXSEE.

Bay Shore, Long Island, Dec. 8.—Captain Benjamin Doxsee died last evening in his eighty-sixth year. Mr. Doxsee was born near Great River, and then a boy his parents moved to Bay Shore. York and Bay Shere and later with a schooner, and carried on the business for many years. Captain Doxnee was a member of the Methodist Church for more than sixty years. He leaves a widow, who was his second wife, and a son and daughter by his first wife.

MRS. MARY CAROLYN MANN.

Mrs. Mary Carolyn Mann, the wife of Dr. D. H. Mann, of No. 194 Clinton-st., died at her home on Thursday after a lingering illness. She was born in New-York City. Her parents were of English and Scotch ancestry. Her father, Cornelius P. Mclivaine, a wholesale merchant, died while Mrs. Mann was in her infancy. She was married to Dr. Mann was in her infancy.

Mann in 1870. She was a member of the Church of the Pligrims and an active worker in the temperance cause. Mrs. Mann wrote many articles which appeared in various magazines and periodicals and was the author of several Sunday school books which were published by the American Tract Society.

C. MEREDITH SIMPSON.

C. Meredith Simpson, who died at Mills Hotel No. on Thursday, at the age of seventy-seven years, had had more remarkable ups and downs than occur in the lives of most men. His friends in this city say that he was born at Esperance, N. Y., and when a boy went to New-Orleans, where in time he became a drygoods merchant, being rated a rich man by 1861. But he lost his fortune through the war, and came to this city, where he made large sums in promoting various enterprises, Again, however, disaster overtook him after the milure of Grant & Ward. During the last few years, it is said, he had been striving to realize on the so-called Woodhouse bonds, which the Mexican Government has discoved as fraudulent, and which Mr. Simpson had secured for a nominal consideration, their face value being, it is said, about $16,000.000. the war, and came to this city, where he made 000,000.

Mr. Simpson had desk room in the office of a firm of lawyers at No. 25 Nassau-st.

ELIAS M. GREENE.

Elias M. Greene dled at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the Colonnade Hotel after a brief filess. He suffered about a week ago with the grip, and on Tuesday night last had a stroke of apoplexy, which caused his death. Mr. Greene was a son of Dr. Daniel Greene and Anna Thompson Gree both of this city, and a great grandson of the famous General Nathaniel Greene, of the Revolutionary Army. He was educated in this city and at Bowdoin College, and when seventeen years old he engaged in business. When war against Mexico was declared in 1846 he enlisted in the United States was declared in 1846 he enhanced in the Chites States Army and served throughout that war. At the out-break of the Civil War he again enlisted, and in break of the Civil War he again enlisted, and in 1862 was made a quartermaster, with the rank of captain. Later he was promoted to be an assistant quartermaster general, with the rank of colonel of volunteers, serving under General Meigs. Mr. Greene was at one time a member of the firm of Burtis & Greene, dealers in crockery ware, of this city, and of the clothing house of Gardner & Greene. Afterward he became a promoter of various enterprises. He had always lived in this city, the leaves two nieces, Mrs. Philip Hone, of this city, and Miss Atwood, of Montchair, N. J.

JOHN HERMAN SIMONSON.

The funeral of John Herman Simonson, once known as "Jack" Herman, a tenor in Hooley's minstrels, will be held to-day at his home, at Union 'ourse, Long Island, where he died on Thursday Mr. Simonson was born sixty-nine-years ago in Brooklyn, and received a common school educa-tion. After engaging in the butcher business he developed a good deal of talent as a tenor, and joined Hooley's minstrels when they started in joined Hooley's minstrels when they started in the Melodeon Theatre, at Remsen and Court sts. Brooklyn. He was one of the quartet made up of Herman, Parkerson, La Rue and Griffin. Her-man was one of the popular singers of his day, and remained with Hooley through all the changes of the house until the latter went to Chicago. Simon-son then removed to Woodhaven, where he estab-ished a hotel and afterward engaged in various other occupations. A son survives him.

BOSTON MUSEUM BUYS LAND.

Boston, Dec. 8.-It was announced to-day that the trustees of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts had purchased a large tract of land in the Back Bay Pens for the purpose of erecting a building that will meet the present and fuure needs of the institution. Agreements have been signed for the sale. The land includes more than six hundred thousand square feet and is near the Huntington-ave, entrance to the Fens:

A NOTABLE COLLECTION. YOUNG ROGERS'S STRANGE ACT.

BRONZES, CERAMICS AND OBJETS D'ART -NATIVE AND FOREIGN MASTERPIECES

RARE OLD PORCELAINS AND UNIQUE NEW PROD. UCTS OF THE POTTER'S OVEN-STATUARY IN MARBLE AND BRONZE-ART GEMS FOR THE DINNER TABLE.

It is often the first step that decides one's course and true to this axiom The Tribune man, who a week or two ago was astounded and dazzled by the ment of Theodore B. Starr, returned again and to the source of such sesthetic delight, but only to find that the half had not been told. On other floors than his jewel department, Mr.

Starr has art collections, in bronzes, clocks and ceramics, that in point of artistic value are probably not equalled, certainly not surpassed, either in this country or abroad. An art critic who shared in the scribe's delight remarked: "I know of and have inspected art collections much larger than this, much more pretentious to the untrained eye, but when I have gone carefully through them, sifting the wheat from the chaff, I have found the really valuable residuum pitifully small, as compared with the whole mass. Here, however, all There are here examples of the best masters of this and bygone days, but nothing that any lover of art for art's sake would not prize as bronzes, instances of MacMonnies-"The Diana,"

"Venus and Adonis," "Boy and Heron," and a reproduction in reduced size of the statue-almost the only one in which New-Yorkers may take a civic pride-of Nathan Hale, the patriot spy, the original of which stands looking out upon busy turmoff of lower Broadway. A note worthy instance of H. Godet is the "Cupid and Psyche"; of Max Bourgeois, "Harmony"; of Lavasseur, "Amphitrite," which last, being mounted on a handsome revolving onyx pedestal, may be appreciated from all points of view.

Nor is the modern virile school of native American art neglected, for here are examples of our rising young artist Solon H. Borglum, who, after some years' study abroad, sent in his spirited group, the "Bucking Broncho" to the Paris Salon of 1859, receiving honorable mention therefor. Novel departures and most artistic are Professor Petrillis two bronze panels in high relief. One of them, several feet in length and bearing in Greek the legend, "Joy in Wine," is descriptive of wine making—and taking—from the vintage to the vat. It is ably handled in classic style, the figures being dancing children in the nude, and the work is perfection. The same artist, Petrilli, exhibits a graceful group in marble, "Psyche and Amour." Turning from the statuary, there are shown a number of clocks, in that purest art of France's most degenerate age, that of Louis XVI, most of them in marble and gold. The tooling, or metal working, on these clocks is worthy of attention, and will repay the closest study. A kindred display to these—only, however, because they are timekeepers—is the array of antique, wood and gold mantel clocks, with quaint, old fashloned dials, indicating many things besides the time of day, and fitted with harmonious chimes.

In the department of ceramics there is material for the student proficient in such branches, as well as artistic shapes and colorings for those who go provided only with a love of the beautiful for beauty's sake. Nor are the two separated, for the examples of the finest and rarest work and wares are still of harmonious design and richest coloring.

A pair of Old Worcester vases, some eighteen inches in height, are of a delicate pink ground, with side panels depicting, with rare artistic effect, pastoral scenes—sheep and cattle. A blue vase of Old Worcester, with a female figure on the side painted with all the delicate skill of a master of miniature work.

An especial and almost unique exhibit is a vase eighteen inches high in the style of Louis XVI. Nor is the modern virtle school of native American art neglected, for here are examples of our niniature work.

An especial and almost unique exhibit is a vase sighteen inches high in the style of Louis XVI.
of deepest, softest blue tints, enamel, laid on oure silver. The silver does not appear, and yet, on the glancing light, the effect of transparency, or of deepest, softest blue tints, enamel, laid on pure silver. The silver does not appear, and yet, in the glancing light, the effect of transparency, or translucency rather, is so strong that one can hardly credit the fact that it is absolutely opaque. The light appears to come through with a shimmering moonlight effect that is entrancing.

An artistic novelty and a distinct advance in ceramics are porcelain panels, with scenes and figures laid on in enamel and pure metallic gold, a process invented and successfully worked out by Noke, of the Doulton works. The largest of these panels, something like 2 feet by 18 inches in size, is much the largest ever successfully produced, as the various processes of firing and the exposure to extremely high and varying temperatures render the process a most hazardous one for other than small plaques.

The subject of this porcelain is entitled "Love Enthroned," and the artist's description follows: "Borne in triumphant procession, Cupid, all-powerful tyrant, with arrow poised and arched bow, sends forth his reckless, golden dart. Imperial purple and gorgeous gold are the draperies on which he is enthroned. About his feet are the victor's laurels. His eyes are covered, for "Love is bilind." Courtier, artist, poet and golden-armored knight bear him in royal state, his power acknowledged, all willing slaves. Through marble halls, preceded by beauteous maidens, scattering roses in his path, heralded by harp and cymbais, he passes onward, gathering ever new victims in his train."

Once in this art atmosphere, one is carried along, willingly, if insensibly, from one object of interest to another until the daylight seems to fade through mere jeniousy, and yet there are so many things remaining to study and enjoy.

In passing out, the writer's eyes were caught at the stationery counter by a few choice specimens of that much abused branch of art, dinner-cards, and a courteous inquiry resulted on a cord whereon appears the outraged dinner's name, or else on a bunch of lilies of the val death.

A set of cards here shown is well worthy of a place in an art portfolio, being the final work in that line of an artist who has deserted dinner cards for the more ambitious if less profitable work of miniature painting. From these gems of art the collection ranged down to those within the means of everyday millionaires, yet all were of high artistic merit and conceived in good taste.

DR. ANDREWS NON-COMMITTAL.

HE HAS NOT HAD OFFICIAL NOTICE OF ELECTION AS CHANCELLOR OF NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY.

Chicago, Dec. 8.-Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, Superintendent of the Chicago Public Schools, said last night, with reference to the report that he would be offered the position of chancellor of the Nebraska State University.

I have seen notices in the newspapers that I was to be elected to the place. I have not been consulted. No one connected with the university has presented the matter to me. I have heard absolutely nothing direct. I have indicated to no one that I would accept the place if it were offered me. Further than this I can say nothing.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Mr. Wilfred Clarke, the excellent comedian, late of Daly's company, has made a one-act version of the farcical play of "Everybody's Friend,"—also called "A Widow Hunt,"-and in this he will apear, next Monday night, December 11, at the pear, next Monday night. December II, at the Grand Opera House. Philadelphia, impersonating Major Wellington de Boots. Mr. Clarke has prepared other sketches for use on the vaudeville stage, and later he will present "The Toodles," "What Happened at the Flat," and "Newspaper Talk." This comedian has the uncommon advantage of being intrinsically humorous and spontaneously funny.

A theatrical event of special interest is assigned for Saturday afternoon, December 16, at Sherry's, Miss Virginia Carlyle, appearing under the auspices of the New-York Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution, will give her monologue entertainment, being a condensed version of the ancient East Indian play of "Sakuntala." Musical inter-East Indian play of Sakuthan School the ludes will be furnished by Mr. Krehbiel and Mr. Hart. Miss Carlyle has been heard in London, with pleasure and approval, by select audiences, and her recital will introduce a distinct novelty here. The performance is given for the benefit of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Miss Julia Marlowe, who is attracting and pleasing crowded houses, at the Criterion Theatre, will give the fiftieth performance of Barbara Freitchie on December II, and souvenirs will be distributed on that occasion.

Carver B. Cline, the theatrical manager, is ously sick at the Fiower Hospital. It was said at the hospital last night that he had a fair chance of recovery. Miss Marie Borroughs, who was some days ago reported to be dangerously sick, is considerably better.

Miss Madeion Temple, the niece of Miss May Irwin, who has been sick in St. Vincent's Hospital for the last three weeks, has recovered rapidly in the last few days. She has left the hospital and is now again in her aunt's home. She expects to resume her part in "Bister Mary" on Monday night.

Charles Frohman has signed a contract to star W. H. Crane in "David Harum." Mr. Frohman's management will continue during the run of this own organization. The production will be made this senson. When Mr. Frohman secured the dramalization of this popular American book he put the manuscript aside, delaying the production until an important star could be secured to play the part of David Harum.

And loth-st. The family particularly request that no flowers be sent. Ross.—At Honesdale, Penn., December 7, Katharine Torrey, wife of Edward F. Ross and daughter of Edwin P. Torrey, of Honesdale.

Puneral Saturday afternoon at 2:46 from her father's house. play, and Mr. Crane will remain at the head of his

MAKES OFF WITH HIS INFANT DAUGHTER FROM THE HOME OF HIS FATHER-IN-LAW.

Oswego, N. Y., Dec. 8 (Special).—Lebbeus Hard-ing Rogers, jr., of New-York, created a sensation in this city this morning by entering the house of his father-in-law, Swits Conde, the wealthy knit goods manufacturer, of New-York and Oswego, and making off with his seven-months-old daughter, Rogers, who married Miss Marle Conde, who died ast May, claims that his child was held by the Condes against his will, and that frequent de by him for her were refused by his wife's family. The Condes say that Rogers never demanded the child, and always seemed pleased that she was being cared for by them. They say that the young man's act in kidnapping the infant is that of an insane person, and they further declare that he is sentally unbalance. The relations between Rogers and the Condes, it is said, have been strained since summer, when the young man was very attentive to a local society belie. His engagement with the young woman was rumored, and the story caused the Conde family great sorrow, as Mrs. Rogers had been dead only a few weeks.

Rogers arrived in this city early this morning, acompanied by a man and woman, the former presumed to be a lawyer and the latter a nurse. He procured a carriage, and putting his assistants in t stationed it near the Conde mansion. He then entered the house, and was cordially greeted by members of the family, so they say. He had breakfast with his father-in-law, and afterward, when he asked to see his daughter, was shown to the ursery. Leaning over the cradle, as if to kiss he little one, he suddenly grabbed the child, and an out of the house with her. The child was lothed in its night robes, and the Condes fear that ran out of the house with her. The child was clothed in its night robes, and the Condes fear that its exposure to the cold may result fatally. Rogers sped down Seneca-st. to the home of Mrs. H. D. McCaffrey, where he turned the child over to the nurse and strange man, who drove to the Central Station and took the lolid train for New-York. Rogers Joined them, but not until he had paid a second visit to the home of Mr. Conde, where all was excitement over the extraordinary occurrence. Rogers refused to make any explanation of his conduct further than to say that he wanted his child, and took her, as he had a legal right to do When asked why he did not proceed in a reasonable way to get her he refused to talk.

The police were informed that the child had been kidnapped and warrants were issued, but no further steps were taken, as Mr. Conde's attorney advised that Rogers had committed no crime. Rogers's wife was the young woman who came into prominence about two years ago through a love affair with Ensign George L. P. Stone, of the Navy.

The Condes have not occupied their town house. No. 6 West Fifty-sixth-st., for several months. On account of the death of their daughter, Mrs. Conde has not entertained or taken any part in social affairs since last spring. They have been living at their home in Oswego since last May.

Lebbeus H. Rogers, sr., the grandfather of the baby in dispute, was the only one at home last night at No. 341 Lenox-ave., where young Mr. Rogers has been living of late. "My son," he said, "came home from Oswego this afternoon, but he is at the present time with friends somewhere in West End-ave. He does not make a full confident of me, and, of course, I do not care to say anything of his affairs. The baby has not been brought to this house, that is certain, although I should be happy to see her any time.

Here Mr. Rogers, who is a handsome, man of middle age, went to a mantel and took down a large photograph of a beautiful baby, whose jolly face and chubby arms and feet be-whose jolly face and chubby arms and feet betokened good health and happiness.

"This is the baby," said he. "I don't know whether my son brought her to New-York or not. I suppose he has a right to do with his child as he sees fit, now that her mother is dead. It was terribly said about the death of the mother and the other baby. They would have been so happy if they had grown up together. My son has means of his own. He is attending the New-York Law School, and expects next year to return to Yale and be graduated with his class, which he was obliged to leave when he married Miss Conde. He is a man of spirit, and is capable of managing his own affairs. I noticed some time ago that he was greatly distressed about something, and I asked him what alled him. He told me that perhaps it was better that I knew nothing about it. I trust that any trouble will soon be bridged over. I shall see Mr. Conde the first time he is in town. My son and the Condes have been on cordial terms, so far as I know, since the death of my son's wife. He was at Oswego last summer once or twice, and visited the home of his wife's parents."

THEOLOGICAL PROFESSOR CRITICISED.

GEORGE HOLLY GILBERT, OF THE CHICAGO THEO-LOGICAL SEMINARY, MUST BRING HIS TEACH-Chicago, Dec. 8 .- At a special meeting the Board of Directors of the Chicago Theological Seminary last night, George Holly Gilbert, of Iowa, professor New Testament literature and interpretation, was criticised because in his books, "The Revelation of Jesus" and "Student's Life of Christ." The Congregational ministers of Chicago and many cities of the West de bated the case. No formal charges were preferred. "The Revelation of Jesus" has caused a notable the never. It is said that the book argues that the entire inspired teachings of the Bible are con-tained in the words of Christ. Professor Gilbert's critics say it negatively discredits the works of the Apostles and teaches that the Saviour did not teach that he was of inspired origin. The view teach that he was of inspired origin. The view held by some theological students who studied under Professor Gilbert took on a stronger shade, it is said, even than his writings and teachings gave. The examination papers of some students showed such a reflection of the teachings of Professor Gilbert that they were submitted in the consideration of the questions before the directors at the present inquiry.

Professor Gilbert refused to discuss the meeting or the questions involved. One director said: "We decided that Professor Gilbert's views must come

Professor Gilbert refused to discuss the meet or the questions involved. One director said: "V decided that Professor Gilbert's views must cointo better accord with the creed. He is given tin and we have not yet severed his connection withe seminary. The action was not meant as reprimend. His teachings were thought to harmful to students. Professor Gilbert declar that his doctrines do not conflict with the teachings of the Church, but the directors did not construe his teachings in his books and in lectures."

J. W. ALBAUGH TO RETIRE FROM STAGE. Baltimore, Dec. 8.—The drop of the curtain tonorrow night at the Lyceum Theatre will signalize the permanent retirement from the stage of John W. Albaugh, sr., the veteran actor-manager. As W. Albaugh, sr., the veteran actor-manager. As the lessee of the Lyceum, he has occasionally taken a part in the plays produced by the Lyceum Stock Company at the house for several seasons, this week pleasing his many friends and admirers as Shylock. He has been connected with the stage as an actor or a manager for forty years, and in the course of that period has been associated in an artistic or business way with all the prominent stars.

"It goes right to the spot" where the rasping cough hurts, and cures it-Jayne's Expectorant. MARRIED.

BERRALL-JENKINS—At Montclair, N. J., December 8, 1869, at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, by Rev. Prederick B. Carter, James Berrall and Miss Gertruds E. D. Jeckins, both of Montclair.

HUNTINGTON-JOHNSON-At her home, in Peekskill, N. Y., on December 6, by the Rev. J. Ritchie Smith, Mary Platt, daughter of Mrs. E. N. and the late Rev. John G. Johnson, to Mr. Henry Huntington, son of Mrs. M. L. and the late Benjamin N. Huntington, of Rome, N. Y.

Netices of marriages and deaths must be in-dorsed with full name and address.

DIED

Atken, Maud L. Burnett, Sara M. Emery, Froncena E. Hoagland, Joseph C. Motr. James. Ross, Katharine T. Russell, Fredetick R.

Starr, Edgar P.
Taylor, Gertrude B.
Wallis, Alice W.
Willis, Alice W.
Wickham, Phebe A.
Willots, Charles A., sr.

AIKEN—At Tienstin, China, October 28, of scarlet fever, Maud Lockwood Alken, wife of Rev. Edwin Bigerton Aiken, and daughter of George and Sarah R. Lockwood, of No. 328 West 57th-st., New-York City. Memorial services will be held Sunday, 10th inst., at 4 o'clock p. m., at Church of Zion and St. Timothy, West 57th-st., between 8th and 9th aves. Rutland (YL) and Baltimore papers please copy.

Bulinett.—At her residence, The Strathmore, 52d-st. and Broadway on December 7, Sara M., wife of the late William J. Burnett.

Puneral services will be held at the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, 57th-st., near 5th-ave., on Esturday, December 9, at 2 p. fu.

EMERY-Friday, December 8, 1869, Froncena E. Emery, wife of Charles G. Emery, in the 56th year of her age. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services Saturday evening, 5th first, at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Tracy, No. 232 West Tist-st.
Interment private.

HOAGLAND-On Friday, December 8, at his residence, No. 27 West 51st-st., Joseph C. Hoagland, in the 59th year of his age. Notice of funeral hereafter.

MOIR—At his home, No. 26 West 10th-st., on Thursday, December 7, in the 83d year of his age, James Moir, esq., of this city. Puneral services on Tuesday, December 12, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Presbyterian Church, on University Place and 10th-st.

The family particularly request that no flowers be sent.

RUSSELL-On December 6, 1899, Frederick B. Ruin the 42d year of his age.
Interment at Hudson, N. Y.

STARR-At East Orange, N. J., December 6, 1999, Edgar P. Starr, in the S2d year of his age.
Pineral services will be held at his late home, No. 16
Carnegie-ave., East Orange, Saturday, December 8, at 2,30 p. m.

TAYLOR—On Wednesday evening, after a short illness, Gertrude B., wife of the late William B. Taylor. Funeral services from her late residence, No. 38 West 50th-st., on Saturday, December 9, 1899, at 11 a. m. WALLIS—At East Orange, N. J., on December 7, 1888.
Alice Waldroo, wife of Hamilton Walls.
Funeral from her late residence, No. 30 Prospect-st., Bast
Orange, on Sunday, December 10, at 2 p. m.
Carriages will be at Brick Church Station, on Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, on arrival of train leaving foot of Barclay and Christopher ats. at 1 p. m.
Interment at convenience of family.
Please omit flowers.

WALTER-Suddenly, on Friday morning, December 8, 1839, at her late residence, No. 7 East 62d-st., Geftrade Cochrane Waiter, daughter of the late Rev. William H. Walter and Ellen Cochrane.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

WICKHAM—At Flushing, Long Island, on Friday, December 8, Phebe A. Wickham, wife of the late Heary W. Wickham, at her late residence, Bayaide-ave., Sunday, December 10, at 3 o'clock p. m. Carriages in attendance upon the arrival of the 2:32 p. m. train from Long Island City.

Interment at the convenience of the family.

WILLETS At Flushing, Long Island, on Tuesday, De-cember 5, 1899, Charles Augustus Willets, sr., in the cember 5, 1859, Charles Augustus Willets, sr., in the 74th year of his age. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services, from his late residence. No. 201 Sasford-aye., on Saturday, December 9, at 2:45 p. m. Trains leave Long Island City at 2 p. m.

A.—The Kensico Cemetery.—Private station ariem Railroad, 43 minutes' ride from the Grand Central epot. Office, 16 East 42d-st.

OFFICE, 1 MADISON AVE., COR. 23D ST., N. T.

Special Notices.

AMERICAN ART GALLERIES. Madison Square South, New-York,

ON FREE VIEW 9 A. M. UNTIL 6 P. M. THREE HUNDRED FOREIGN PAINTINGS

AND WATER COLORS

Mostly Cabinet Size Genre Subjects TO BE SOLD ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT RESERVE OR RESTRICTION BY ORDER OF

W. F. LAMORINIÉRE.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings next, December 12th, 13th and 14th, at 8 o'clock, THOMAS E. KIRBY, Auctioneer.

MANAGERS. Bangs & Co., 91 and 93 Fifth Avenue, WILL SELL AT AUCTION MONDAY AFTERNOON

AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION,

AT 3 O'CLOCK.

An interesting collection of curious and SCARCE BOOKS. Art Works, First Editions, etc. TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY at 8 P. M. AMERICANA—Books and Pamphlets; Local Histories; Genealogies; N. Y. State and City Items; Regimental

THURSDAY and FRIDAY afternoons A fine collection of Scarce and Interesting Books, including many valuable Works on Art, Architecture, etc.;

Histories: Confederate Publications, etc.

The Thirty-first Anniversary of the Presbyterian Hospital will be held on Saturday, December 9th, at 3 P. M., at the Hospital, entrance on Seventieth Street and Madison Avenue.

The Hospital will be open for inspection from 1:30 to 0 P. M. P. M.
The public are invited to attend.

IN THE UNITED STATES. DAILY (with Sunday), $1 a month, address changed as often as desired; $2.50 for three months; $5 for six months; $10 a year.

DAILY (without Sunday), 90 cents a month, address

DAILY (without Sunday), 90 cents a month, address changed as often as desired; $2 for three months; $4 for six months; $8 a year.

RUNDAY TRIBUND (separately), $1 for six months; $2 a year, Address changed as often as desired.

WEEKLY TRIBUNE, issued Thursdays, $1 a year; to foreign countries, except Mexico and Canada, $204 a year, including extra postage.

TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE, issued Mondays, Wednesdays of Pridays $1 50 a year. TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1899, 25 cents a copy. FOR TRAVELLERS IN EUROPE

DAILY (with Sunday), $1.72 a month. Address changed as often as desired. Sunday), $1.44 a month. Address changed as often as desired. IN NEW YORK CITY.

One cent a copy extra postage is charged on the DAIL1 and TRI-WEEKLY to mail subscribers in New-York City

REMITTANCES. REMITTANCES should always be made in Postoffice money order, Express money order, or draft on New-Tork City. If cash is sent by mail unregistered, The Tribuse will not be responsible for its loss.

OFFICES.

MAIN OFFICE—No. 134 Nassau-st.

UPTOWN OFFICE—No. 1,242 Broadway.

AMERICANS ABROAD will find The Tribune at London-Office of The Tribune, No. 149 Fiset-st.

Morton, Chaplin & Co., No. 6 Frincess-st., E. C.

Brown, Gould & Co., No. 54 New-Oxford-st.

American Express Company, No. 3 Waterloo Place
Thomas Cook & Son, Ludgate Circus.

The London office of The Tribuner is a convenient place to leave advertisements and subscriptions.

Paris—J. Monroe & Co., No. 7 Rue Seribe, Hottinguer & Co., No. 58 Rue de Provence.

Postoffice Notice.

(Should be read DAILY by all interested, as changes may occur at any time.)

Foreign mails for the week ending December 9, 1999, will close (promptly in all cases) at the General Postoffice as follows: Parcels Post Mails close one hour earlier than closing time shown below. Parcels Post Mails for Germany close at 5 p. m. Monday.

TRANSATLANTIC MAILS.

SATURDAY—At 6:30 a. m. for Europe, per s. s. Umbria, via Queenstown; at 8 a. m. for Netherlands direct, per s. s. Rotterdam, via Rotterdam detters must be directed "per s. s. Rotterdam"); at 9 s. m. for Italy per s. a. Auguste Victoria, via Naples (letters must be directed "per s. s. Auguste Victoria"); at 10 a. m. for Scotland, per s. s. Tanui, via Clasgow (letters must be directed "per s. s. Tanui, via Clasgow (letters must be directed "per s. s. Tanui").

*PRINTED MATTER ETC.—German steamers sailing on Tuesdays take Printed Matter, etc., for other parts of Europe. American and White Star steamers on Wednesdays, German steamers on Thursdays, and Cunard, French and German steamers on Saturdays take Printed Matter, etc., for all countries for which they are advertised to carry mail.

After the closing of the Supplementary Transatlantic Mails named above, additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French and German steamers, and remain open until within Ten Minutes of the hour of sailing of steamer.

MAILS FOR SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA, WEST INDIES, ETC.

Ten Minutes of the hour of sailing of steamer.

MAILS POR SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA.

WEST INDIES, ETC.

6ATURDAY—At 9:30 a. m. (supplementary 10 a. m.) for St. Thomas, St. Croix. Leeward and Windward Islands, per s. a. Fretorial letters for Greinada and Trinidad must be directed letters for Greinada and Trinidad must be directed letters for Greinada and Trinidad must be directed for Landson and Greytown per s. a. Alene stetters 10 a. m. for Brazil, direct, per s. s. Alene stetters 10 a. m. for Brazil, direct, per s. s. Alene stetters 10 a. m. for Brazil, direct, per s. s. Alene stetters for Costa Rica must be directed per s. s. Capril, via Fernambuco (letters for North Brazil and La Plata Countries must be directed per s. s. Analysis, via Havana (letters must be directed per s. s. Havana, via Havana (letters must be directed per s. s. Havana, via Havana (letters must be directed per s. s. Arkadia, via Saa Juan; at 11 a. m. for Greinada and Trididad, per s. a. Greinada; at 1 p. m. for Nusctas, Gluar, Puerto Paère and Raracca, per s. b. Laurburg; at 1 p. m. (supplementary 1:30 p. m. for Nusctas, Gluar, Puerto Paère and Raracca, per s. b. Laurburg; at 1 p. m. (supplementary 1:30 p. m. for Nusctas, Gluar, Puerto Paère and Saturday). Mails for Miquelon, by rail to Boeton and thence by steamer, close at this office daily at 8:30 p. m. (connecting close here every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday). Mails for Miquelon, by rail to Boeton and thence by steamer, close at this office daily at 6:30 p. m. Mails for Cuba, by rail to Midami, Fia, and thence by steamer, close at this office daily except Monday) at 17 a. m. (the connecting closes are on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday). Mails for Cuba, by rail to Midami, Fia, and thence by steamer, close at this office daily at 2:30 p. m. Mails for Cuba, by rail to Midami, Fia, and thence by steamer, close at this office daily at 2:30 p. m. and 2:30 p. m. Mails for Cuba, by rail to Port Sassel for dispatch by steamer, close at this office daily at 2:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Mails for

p. m. second day before.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, apan and China, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #8, inclusive, for dispatch per s. s. Coptic. Mails for Mawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #8, inclusive for dispatch per s. s. Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies (except West Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies (except West Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies (except West Australia. Which goes via Europe, and New-Zealand, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. after November #25 and up to December #9, inclusive, for dispatch per s. s. Warrimoo. Mails for China. Japan and Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #16, inclusive, for dispatch per s. s. America Maru. Mails for Australia (except West Australia), New-Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji and Samoan islands via San Francisco, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. after December #25, for dispatch per s. s. Mariposa, Mails for Society islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #26, inclusive, for dispatch by ship Tropic Bird. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #26, inclusive, for dispatch by ship Tropic Bird. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6.30 p. m. up to December #26, inclusive, for dispatch per s. a. Empress of India.

Transpacific mails are forwarded to port of sailing daily and the schedule of closing is arranged on the persumption of their unintercupted overland transit. Thegistered mail closes at 6 p. m. previous day.

Postoffice, New-York, N. Y., December 1, 1808.